Broadview, IL March 1, 2016 - National Van Lines is proud to welcome a new addition to the team. Ironclad Moving Systems, Inc. joined our team on December 15, 2015 and will make an amazing addition to National.

Ironclad Moving Systems, Inc. was established in 2009. The goal was to have a ethically based, top notch moving company with emphasis on customer service. Following this model, they have built something to be proud of. Staying true to themselves and striving to be better, they embrace the traditional values and work ethic that made this industry great.

Since 2009, Ironclad Moving Systems, Inc. has proven to be one of the highest rated and respected moving and storage companies in southern California. They are dedicated in their efforts to improve their methods and maintain a solid platform on which to grow. They have come very far, not by taking shortcuts, by always putting their customers first.

Ironclad Moving Systems, Inc. offers a wide range of services, and with the help of National, we can help grow them even further!

Owners Justin Velez, Stephen Franklin, together with Casey Taylor and his wife Sharon have stood by the notion of their business being “A Business in Motion,” and they have encouraged every effort to make that statement true. Moving has been a passion for them since day one. They have been very fortunate to have great mentors and people to teach them this business. At a certain point, in their moving career, they decided they were going to start their own company and follow their dreams. They consider this the “smartest decision ever made!” Justin and Stephen encourage those of you who are bold enough to dream, to follows those dreams. “They will lead you right where you want to be.”
